

BRAND & PRODUCT DESIGN KIT

Clarity, in motion.

A practical visual system for the work between a message and its outcome.

Work moves. Nothing gets lost.

Identity / interfaces / motion / communication / handoff

01 / STRATEGY

Make ownership visible.

A brand for accountable email operations and clear financial visibility.

Promise

Give every task a clear owner, every handover a record, and every team an understandable view of progress.

Personality

Precise, calm, capable. Communicate like a thoughtful operations partner: direct about what happened and useful about what comes next.

Positioning

LexFlow brings shared-mailbox work and role-specific reporting into one accountable workspace. Do not imply features are live when they are prototypes.

VOICE FORMULA

State the result. Name the owner or impact. Offer the next action. Avoid hype, blame and vague success messages.

02 / IDENTITY

One mark. Clear recognition.

A rounded-square L monogram paired with the LexFlow wordmark. Keep the capital L and F.

Clear space

Keep at least half the symbol width clear around every lockup. Never crowd it with navigation or copy.

Minimum sizes

Digital: 24 px symbol, 128 px lockup.
Print: 8 mm symbol, 32 mm lockup.
Use the symbol alone for favicons.

Do not

Stretch, rotate, add shadows, recolor each letter, place on noisy imagery, or rebuild the symbol with a font glyph.

03 / COLOR

Warm clarity. Dark precision.

Core palette from the app. Use coral sparingly for actions, selected states and emphasis.

04 / THEME & CONTRAST

Contrast is part of the brand.

Dark mode is a mapped palette, not a simple color inversion.

LIGHT

Ready for your review

Secondary copy must remain readable. Unread items use a persistent surface tint.

DARK

Ready for your review

Secondary copy must remain readable. Unread items use a persistent surface tint.

Open assigned work

Target WCAG AA: 4.5:1 for normal text, 3:1 for large text and essential UI boundaries. Use dark text on bright dark-mode coral. Never rely on color alone for status.

The dark border token is an opaque equivalent of the app's translucent border. Recheck contrast when layering glass surfaces.

05 / TYPOGRAPHY

A quiet hierarchy.

Keep the interface readable before making it expressive.

App stack: Avenir Next, Helvetica Neue, Inter, Arial, sans-serif. No font binaries included. This guide uses Helvetica for portable rendering; license commercial fonts separately.

06 / LAYOUT

Space is a working tool.

Use an 8 px rhythm, rounded surfaces and consistent alignment. Avoid oversized empty banners.

Responsive grid

Desktop: 12 columns, 24 px gaps, 32 px gutters. Tablet: 8 columns, 24 px gutters. Mobile: 4 columns, 16 px gutters.

Surface hierarchy

14 px controls, 26 px cards, 40 px page shell. Use pill shapes for primary actions and compact filters, not every container.

Density

Show 3-5 headline KPIs first. Move secondary metrics to module tabs or detail panels. Keep titles and totals left-aligned.

07 / COMPONENTS

Predictable, from click to outcome.

Use the same states throughout Mailbox, Vacation and Finance modules.

Visible keyboard focus

Hover

Subtle surface tint. Never hide the primary action behind hover.

Loading

Keep width stable. Show progress and prevent duplicate submissions.

Error

Explain the issue beside the field. Keep user input intact.

Empty

Describe what will appear here and offer a useful next step.

08 / PRODUCT PATTERN

A dashboard that gets out of the way.

09 / DATA & STATUS

Signal, not decoration.

Keep charts and notifications honest, legible and actionable.

New assignment

Unread: highlight the whole row until read. Do not add a dot as the only signal.

Read notification

Return to the neutral surface after opening.

Charts: use coral for the primary series and slate blue for comparison. Label axes, units, reporting period and freshness. Pair colors with labels or patterns. Zero-baseline bar charts only.

Financial data: distinguish demo from company data. Show unavailable values as unavailable, never as zero. Use red for breached SLA plus a written status.

10 / MOTION & SOUND

Responsive, never restless.

Motion explains a change. It is not a reward for every click.

140 ms / feedback

Hover and focus states should feel immediate. Use opacity and color, not movement of surrounding content.

220 ms / transitions

Tabs, switches and drawers: short, smooth movement with one clear destination.

420 ms / entrance

Use sparingly on first view. Stagger related items by 45 ms; never animate an entire long list.

Anime.js: give each element one animation owner. Always set explicit visible end states (opacity 1, translation 0). Respect prefers-reduced-motion and preserve focus during transitions.

Sound: optional, muted on request, brief and non-startling. Never use audio as the only confirmation. No sound files included in this kit.

11 / WRITING & ROLLOUT

A system your team can use.

Start with the included tokens and assets. Roll out deliberately, without rewriting workflows.

Write this

“Assigned to Maya.” “12 open tasks.” “Microsoft could not deliver this email. Review the delivery details.” Be factual, specific and helpful.

Not this

“Success!!!” “Something went wrong.” “All handled” when work is still open. Avoid inflated security, AI or compliance claims.

DELIVERY CHECKLIST

- 1. Use the supplied SVG variants and map light/dark tokens.
- 2. Test contrast, keyboard access, 44 px touch targets and reduced motion.
- 3. Validate mobile layouts and realistic long content.
- 4. Confirm feature claims and approve the identity before public rollout.

SCOPE Editable logo SVGs, icon sprite, social card, email signature, CSS and JSON tokens. No font licenses, trademark clearance or app changes are included.
